Status of manufacture of satellite phone terminal

2663. SHRI YADLAPATI VENKAT RAO: Will the Minister of COMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY be pleased to state:

(a) what is the status of manufacture of satellite phone terminal in India, for which C-DoT acquired technology from USA;

(b) the money spent on this, so far; and

(c) the utility achieved through this investment or how it is to be utilised?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF COMMUNICATIONS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY (SHRI TAPAN SIKDAR): (a) The Satellite Phone Terminal based on technology acquired from erstwhile COMSAT Lab, USA by CDoT are not being manufactured in India.

(b) The money spent so far on this project is Rs. 21.8 Crores including Satellite Earth Station.

(c) The utility could not be achieved through the investments made due to un-stable performance of Mobile Satellite transponders on INSAT-2C and -3B and failure of INSAT-2D Satellite.

The characteristics of the Mobile Satellite Services (MSS) transponders of INSAT 3C launched in January, 2002 are under observation. As there has been considerable delay from the launch of the Project, the demand of the users is to be reconfirmed. Further the issues related with the manufacturability of remote terminals and continuous availability of mobile Satellite Transponders on INSAT Satellite are to be re-ascertained before commencement of any commercial services based on this technology.
